This is a forewarning for subscribers of a series of posts that has already begun. Apologies if this is of no interest to you, but it will be over in a fortnight or so. I am attempting to compile a comprehensive list of the Ancient Greek terms in Adorno's Aesthetic Theory. I am creating one post per entry and giving as much background information on the term as is viable. When the work is complete, I will create a post indexing the terms and linking to the original posts.
